NEUE STAATSGALERIE, STUTTGART

20. Library: for use of scholars only—spiral staircase which connects all its three levels is enclosed in perforated metal panelling.

21. "The brightly coloured Hil assembly and the sunburst ceiling lighting ... contribute to the informal.

22. Lecture room.

23. The nineteenth-century museum as a prototype has attributes which I find attractive—for instance an odyssey of gallery rooms. Even when small nineteenth-century museums often have a certain monumentality..."
